

Leaders in Longevity De-Risking

Guy Coughlan, Geoff Eaton, Richard Farr, Brent Simmons, and Amy Kessler

The market for longevity solutions was created to help pension funds manage a significant risk. Market participants will discuss actual transactions and address how different companies have chosen their de-risking path and what those early transactors have learned in the course of doing their deals. What works well in the market today and how did the available solutions help real clients meet their de-risking goals?
