

Profile:

Lufei Ruan is a Ph.D. candidate in Accounting at Carnegie Mellon University. She has taught an undergraduate core course and led recitation in the MBA courses. Her dissertation applies game theory to the areas of fair value reporting, accounting for fixed assets, and the comparison between US GAAP and IFRS. She is also interested in studying the design of executive compensation contracts.

Lufei Ruan expects to earn her doctorate in Accounting at Carnegie Mellon University in May 2016. She received a bachelor's degree in Accounting from Tsinghua University (China), where she was awarded Outstanding Bachelor Thesis Award. She grew up in China. Also, she was a professional chess player and became the finalist of Women's World Chess Championship 2010.